

kindnessmatters50.com #kindnessmatters50

I've often found myself wishing I had a magic wand that could make things all better when times are tough. I've realized that the tough times help shape us into who we are, though I still believe in the power of positivity, prayers, good vibes, and yes, a bit of pixie dust. Please accept this wand in the spirit that it has been given.

There is no magic in the wand. Energy and magic comes from you and into the wand!

Say the following 5 times when you wish to use the wand:
"With this wand, I use my magic for good and peace."

kindnessmatters50.com #kindnessmatters50

I've often found myself wishing I had a magic wand that could make things all better when times are tough. I've realized that the tough times help shape us into who we are, though I still believe in the power of positivity, prayers, good vibes, and yes, a bit of pixie dust. Please accept this wand in the spirit that it has been given.

There is no magic in the wand. Energy and magic comes from you and into the wand!

Say the following 5 times when you wish to use the wand:
"With this wand, I use my magic for good and peace."

kindnessmatters50.com #kindnessmatters50

I've often found myself wishing I had a magic wand that could make things all better when times are tough. I've realized that the tough times help shape us into who we are, though I still believe in the power of positivity, prayers, good vibes, and yes, a bit of pixie dust. Please accept this wand in the spirit that it has been given.

There is no magic in the wand. Energy and magic comes from you and into the wand!

Say the following 5 times when you wish to use the wand:
"With this wand, I use my magic for good and peace."

